Kilbeggan Organic is a family-owned food business located in the midlands of Ireland. Sixth generation farmers, Kilbeggan converted to organic farming in 1999 and specialises in growing the finest-quality organic oats.

Kilbeggan Organic Foods company was established in January 2011 and saw the Lalor family produce and market organic food products based on the organic oat crop grown on the family farm Ballard Organic Farm.

As the crop is continuously of such a high standard, it was decided to develop the grain into products which could be marketed under its own brand, Kilbeggan Organic Foods.

Why Us

Kilbeggan Organic Foods specialises in producing premium oat-based products using organic oats harvested from the family farm. The products contain premium Irish ingredients where possible and are all free of artificial preservatives.
