It was also the first pub in the city to resolutely refuse to serve internationally recognised brands, trusting the pub-going public to embrace its own produce, plus a selected range of Irish and International beers.

Two decades on, that trust has proved to be well founded. Five years after setting up in Temple Bar, capacity issues necessitated a move to a standalone brewery In Ballycoolin, North Dublin.

The continued expansion of the Porterhouse Group combined with an increasing demand for craft beer has meant a move to a 30000HL state-of-the-art facility and a visitor centre in Glasnevin.

Why Us

The Porterhouse Company has been an innovator since its inception. Not only was it Ireland's first brewery/pub chain, it is also the largest craft brewery in the country for over 20 years.
