Bandon Vale was initially set up by the Mahon family in the 90s as a traditional cheesemaking company. Over the years, Bandon Vale developed and diversified in response to industry demand and is now equipped with eight state-of-the-art processing and packing lines. The company was acquired by Bandon Co-Operative in 2008 and has since experienced further expansion. Last year, the company invested in a purpose-built chilled and ambient storage facility, equipped with over 2000 pallet spaces.
