Specialists in artisan sandwich breads and the manufacture of speciality rolls, Panelto food's master bakers have visited every corner of Italy, learning ancient Biga techniques and gathering traditional recipes from the world's best bakeries.

Through this experience, the company learned that making really great bread takes time - lot's of time. This time gives Panelto food's bread a uniquely soft, bouncy texture and distinctive open crumb structure.

If you want to know what sets Panelto food's products apart, the difference is in the bread.

Why Us

The combination of uniquely sourced and milled wheat, the slow fermentation of the traditional Italian Biga starter, and the intense heat of the granite stone oven that delivers a light, open structure and a crisp, flavoursome crust.

Quality ingredients and slow, gentle handling of the dough throughout the baking process allows the company to deliver its signature eating experience across its range.
